795. JEROME B. [9] DORMAN (Jerome[8], Anthony[7], Moses[6], Jeremiah[5], Thomas[4], Amos[3], Thomas[2-1]) was born about 1875 in Washington, DC (1900 USC) and died after 1931 (DC Prob. #41878), possibly before 1938 (not mentioned in stepmother's will). He married before 1909 (first child) LAURA _____, who was born in Maryland about 1881, parentage unknown.

Jerome was employed as an electrician for the telephone company in the District of Columbia. In 1920, he and his wife, with their three children, were living on North Carolina Ave. NE. In 1931, Jerome and Laura were beneficiaries of the will of his aunt, Caroline V. Dorman (DC Prob. #41878). When his step-mother, Susan, died in 1938, her will mentioned Jerome's brother, but not Jerome, which might mean that he had died by then.

Children:

1059. i. CHARLES J., b. about 1909.
1060. ii. EDGAR A., b. about 1912; m. HELEN _____.
1061. iii. CARROLL K., b. about 1915: died young (not mentioned in will of her/his aunt, Caroline).

796. CLARENCE B. [9] DORMAN (Jerome[8], Anthony[7], Moses[6], Jeremiah[5], Thomas[4], Amos[3], Thomas[2-1]) was born in 1 Feb. 1878 (death rec.) in Washington, DC and died in Northampton, MA 8 Feb. 1943 (VR). He married (his death rec.) DOROTHY BOND, parentage unknown.

In 1900, Clarence was still living in Washington; he was 24 years old, single, employed by and residing at the Government Hospital for the Insane (USC). When his stepmother died in 1938, she devised a $500 bequest to "my beloved step-son, Clarence B. Dorman of Union City, NJ." (DC Prob. #74177-26) When Clarence died in 1943 at the Northampton State Hospital, his wife was the informant. No further information.

797. HOLLIS LORENZO [9] DORMAN (Charlotte[8], Anthony[7], Moses[6], Jeremiah[5], Thomas[4], Amos[3], Thomas[2-1]) was born in July of 1865 in Washington, DC (1900 USC) and died after 1931, probably in Detroit, MI (City Dir.)

Hollis left Washington for Missouri with his mother about 1878 and probably moved from there to Detroit about the same time as his mother. He first appears in the Detroit Directory in 1885, boarding in the home of Jeremiah Dorman. He boards with Jeremiah Dorman until 1902, shortly before the latter's death, then lives on his own until he disappears from the directory after 1927. During this 42 year period, his main occupation seemed to be that of agent for janitorial supplies, but he is also called an engineer, canvasser, salesman, janitor, clerk and laborer. There is no evidence of marriage or children.

The will of Lottie Dorman, made in Washington 16 Apr. 1900 and proved in Detroit 24 Apr. 1903 (DC Prob. #9675, Wayne Co. Prob. #299:109) made Hollis trustee of funds meant for his two younger step-brothers, with whom he became involved in a bitter legal dispute over distribution. In 1931, the petition for the administration of the estate of Caroline V. Dorman, entered in Washington, DC, mentioned "Hollis Lewellyn Chubbuck of Detroit, nephew, issue of Lottie Dorman, deceased sister." (DC Prob. #41878) It should be noted, however, that Hollis is always named Dorman, never Chubbuck, in the Detroit directories.

798. CORA E. [9] DORMAN (Charlotte[8], Anthony[7], Moses[6], Jeremiah[5], Thomas[4], Amos[3], Thomas[2-1]) was born in Washington, DC July, 1868 (1900 USC, Wayne Co. Prob. #30452). She married about 1888 (Ibid.) JAMES ROSS, who was born in Canada May, 1863.

In 1900, Cora was living in Detroit, MI with her husband, three sons and two step-brothers. James had immigrated from Canada in 1882 and was working as an electrician. Jerry J. and Willis Dorman, Cora's two step-brothers, boarded with them for many years. (1900 MI USC, Detroit Dir.)

On 10 Jan. and again on 30 Sept. 1903, Cora petitioned the probate court to appoint an administrator for her mother's estate, which had not yet been settled. (Wayne Co. Prob. #30452) She claimed to have been appointed guardian of her step-brother, Willis, a minor. The 1910 census shows the Ross family still living in Detroit on Howard Street; James was an electrician for the railroad and their three sons were still at home. They do not appear in the 1920 census for Detroit. In 1931, Cora Ross of Detroit was mentioned as an heir-at-law of her aunt, Caroline V. Dorman. (Washington, DC Prob. #41878.)

Children, surname ROSS:

i. JAMES, b. in Michigan Aug. 1890.
ii. WILLIAM, b. in Michigan Oct. 1891.
iii. ALBERT, b. in Michigan Apr. 1898.

799. JEREMIAH J. [9] DORMAN (Charlotte[8], Anthony[7], Moses[6], Jeremiah[5], Thomas[4], Amos[3], Thomas[2-1]) was born in Feb, 1881 in Missouri (1900 MI USC). He married before 1927 MERTIE L. _____,parentage unknown.

Jerry moved from Missouri to Michigan with his mother about 1882. In 1899, he had moved in with his father, Jeremiah, and step-brother, Hollis, in Detroit (Directory). In 1900, he was listed as living both with his father and his step-sister. For the next seventeen years, however, he boarded with his sister, Cora Ross (Directories 1900-1917). From 1918 on he had his own home and it appears that he married sometime during that period. His various occupations included engineer, cutter, finisher, woodworker, glass cutter, machinist, trimmer, clerk, autoworker, carpenter, laborer and janitor.

800. WILLIS REED SPEAR [9] DORMAN (Charlotte[8], Anthony[7], Moses[6], Jeremiah[5], Thomas[4], Amos[3], Thomas[2-1]) was born in Michigan in May, 1882 (1900 MI USC).

Willis first appears in the 1900 census for Detroit, an 18-year-old living with his sister, Cora Ross and working as a picture framer. He is listed as a son and heir of Lottie Dorman in a petition filed by his step-sister, Cora, in 1903 (Wayne Co. Prob. #30452). Willis disappears from the Detroit directories after 1905; he either died young, a theory bolstered by the fact that he is not mentioned along with his three siblings in the 1929-1931 probate documents of his aunt, Caroline V. Dorman (DC Prob. #041876). Or he moved on to another state and has not yet been located. No further information.

804. ARTHUR W. [9] DORMAN (Stephen[8], Josiah[7], Benjamin[6], Jabez[5-4-3], Thomas[2-1]) was born in August of 1854 (1900 USC), probably in Harrington, ME, and died in French Lake, MN in 1913 (Wright Co. Prob. #704). He married in 1886 (1900 USC) MARY T. GERARD (Drisko, p. 106), who was born in Wisconsin in December of 1862 (1900 USC) and died in French Lake 22 Aug. 1932 (Wright Co. Prob.), daughter of Louis and Margaret Gerard, both born in France.

Shortly before 1860, Arthur came to Minnesota from Maine as a young child with his parents, who settled temporarily in Kingston, Meeker County (1860 USC), and then moved before 1870 to French Lake in Wright County. Arthur is found there in the census from 1870 to 1910, listed as a farm worker and then a farmer. There were no children of this marriage (Drisko, p.106).

On 11 Aug. 1913, Mary Dorman petitioned the court for the administration of the estate of Arthur W. Dorman. There was no inventory and she was the only heir (Wright Co. Prob. #704). The 1932 will of Mary T. Dorman was executed by her brother, Robert Gerard. Her property was valued $6000 and personal worth at $830. This was divided among a number of Gerard brothers, sisters, nephews and nieces of the deceased. The will does bequeath a portion to her sister-in-law, Emma (Dorman) Quillen of Hillman, MN (Wright Co. Prob. #4227). Arthur and Mary are buried in Woodlawn Cemetery, Annandale, MN.

805. WILBUR HARRISON [9] DORMAN (Stephen[8], Josiah[7], Benjamin[6], Jabez[5-4-3], Thomas[2-1]) was born 11 May 1858 in Cherryfield, ME, and died 17 July 1931 in South Haven, MN (Ancestry File). He married 25 Dec. 1888 ANNA AMANDA RUDOLPH, who was born in Minnesota 18 November 1865 and died 22 Dec. 1948 in St. Peter, MN, daughter of Levi and Susannah (Syphert) Rudolph. (Ibid.)

Wilbur came from Maine to Minnesota as an infant with his parents, who settled for a short time in Kingston and then moved on to French Lake (1860 & 1870 USC). He was a farmer who lived most of his life in French Lake, moving in his later years to South Side Township and later to South Haven, MN. Drisko writes that they had four children (p. 106), but only two can be identified through census materials.

Children:

1062. i. CLARENCE LEROY, b. 21 Oct. 1889; m. EVA KRONIN.
1063. ii. LULU A., b. 4 June 1895; m. VERNE E. CONVERSE.

She married before 1889 (first child) KIRZA (KERSEY) RUDOLPH, who was born in Pennsylvania about 1863, son of Levi and Susannah Rudolph (1870 USC).

809. ROXA EMMA [9] DORMAN (Stephen[8], Josiah[7], Benjamin[6], Jabez[5-4-3], Thomas [2-1]) was born in Dec. 1866 (1900 USC). She married about 1891 (1900 USC) SHERIDAN QUILLEN, who was born in Pennsylvania in April, 1866.

It is clear that Roxa went by her middle name in her adult years. The will of Mary T. Dorman, proved in Wright County, MN in 1932, mentions as her sister-in-law Emma Quillen, who is presumed to be Roxa. Sheridan was listed as a carpenter living in French Lake, MN in 1900 with his wife and three daughters, next door to her parents. By 1910 they have moved from French Lake and they do not appear in the 1920 MN census index.

Cora had immigrated from Sweden in 1887. In 1910, this family is still in Shelton, where Charles rents a house and is employed as a locomotive engineer (USC).

Charles was divorced from his second wife in Montesano, WA. He was for over forty years a railroad engineer out of Shelton, WA. While employed by the Simpson Logging Company, he was seriously injured and forced to retire from work. In his later years, he lived with his son, Eugene, and his granddaughter, Beverly Huss, remembers him as a great teller of stories and player of games.

In 1880, Lillian was living with her father and her brother, Hamlet, as boarders in the home of Cyril Ward in Tumwater, WA. In the 1929 funeral home record of Hamlet she is referred to as Mrs. Lillian DeGrace. Drisko says that she had no children (p. 110), but Beverly Huss writes that she had an adopted son.

Hamlet was a farmer most of his adult life. He was married and living with his father in Mud Bay Precinct, WA in the 1900 census and he was in and around Olympia and Tumwater in 1910 and 1920 (USC). On 12 Apr. 1906, he and Annie sold land in Tumwater for $1400 to Mary O. John of Olympia (Thurston Co. Deed v. 6, p. 487). Annie F. Much of the following information has been taken from History of the Columbia River Valley (v. 3, pp. 417-8). Harry came from Minnesota to Everett, WA with his parents when he was three years old. He attended public schools in that city and graduated from the University of Washington with a B.A. in 1915. 819. FRANK F. [9] DORMAN (Lewis[8], Israel[7], Benjamin[6], Jabez[5-4-3], Thomas[2-1]) was born in July of 1865 (1900 USC), probably in Corcoran, MN and died 11 July 1933 (Probate). He married before 1908 (first child) EMMA G. _____, who was born in Canada in June of 1866, immigrated to the United States in 1890 and was naturalized in 1899 (1900 USC), parentage unknown.

City Directories of Minneapolis, MN show Frank F. Dorman as a laborer for F.S. Stevens in 1895, an oiler in 1897 and a janitor in 1905. In 1900, Frank, still single, had apparently moved back for a time to live and farm in Medina Township, Hennepin County, MN (USC). By 1920, he had married, had a daughter and had moved to Minneapolis, where he owned his house on Luke Street and was in the business of wholesale farm implements (USC).

On 18 May 1934, Emma G. Dorman, widow of Frank F., petitioned for administration of the estate of her husband, who had died intestate. There was no inventory and she apparently was awarded everything (Hennepin Co. Prob. #045105).

820. LAURA H. [9] DORMAN (Lewis[8], Israel[7], Benjamin[6], Jabez[5-4-3], Thomas[2-1]) was born 6 July 1868 (death rec.), probably in Corcoran, MN, and died unmarried in Pasadena, CA 1 July 1952 (CA VR).

Laura is shown in the city directories of Minneapolis as a dressmaker from 1895 to 1905. In 1900, Laura's widowed mother, Lucretia, came to live with her for a time; her sister, Maria, also spent a few years living with her. By 1920, Laura had moved to Pasadena, CA, where she lived with the family of Stanton Forsman and was described as a nurse.

824. ANDREW HERBERT [9] DORMAN (John[8], Nathaniel[7], Benjamin[6], Jabez[5-4-3], Thomas[2-1]) was born in Beddington, ME 16 Mar. 1854 (Colton) and died in Tacoma, WA 13 June 1926 (WA VR). He married before 1894 (first child), as her second husband, CORA B. MCCAULEY, who was born in New Hampshire in Oct. 1861, parentage unknown, and died after 1920 (USC).

Andrew came to Minnesota from Maine with his parents between 1860 (USC) and 1866 (birth of sister). They settled among the growing Dorman colony in Kingston, Meeker County, but by 1880 Andrew had moved with his parents to Minneapolis where he is listed as a carpenter, living with his mother (Directory). After his father's death in 1888, Andrew married and moved with his wife and child to Duluth in St. Louis County, MN, where the 1900 census finds them living on East Fourth Street. Cora brought to her marriage with Andrew two sons of her first marriage, who retained their original surname (shown below).

This family probably resided in Montana for a brief period of time, because their last child was born there in 1903. By 1915, however, they had moved to Tumwater, WA, where Andrew was listed in the Thurston County Directory as a shoemaker. His mother, Melissa, had recently moved to Tumwater and become the fourth wife of Benjamin F. Dorman. His sister, Minnesota Eakle, and his brother, Alonzo, were also living in the area.

Andrew and Cora were living apart in 1920; it is not known whether this was an informal separation or a divorce. Cora was on West 39th Street in Los Angeles, CA with her two unmarried daughters, while Andrew was living alone in Tacoma. In most of the census materials and other records Andrew was described as a house carpenter.

She married about 1875 (1900 USC) MASON COLBY GRIFFIN, who was born 28 May 1848 in Deblois, ME (VR) and died 5 Jan. 1922 in Oakland, son of Jeremiah Griffin.

Phebe appears in the 1860 census in Beddington, but by 1866 she had moved with her parents to Kingston, MN. She and Mason are still in Kingston, married with no children, in 1880 (USC), but by 1900 they have moved to Spokane, WA, where they are living on Augusta Streeet and Mason is working as a blacksmith; they have been married for 25 years and have three children.

The 1920 census finds this family residing on 38th Ave. in Oakland, CA (Brooklyn Township). Phebe's mother, Melissa, aged 88, is living with them, along with a granddaughter, Aleda Dooley, aged 7, born in Oregon.

826. ALONZO SMALL [9] DORMAN (John[8], Nathaniel[7], Benjamin[6], Jabez[5-4-3], Thomas[2-1]) was born in Cherryfield, ME 21 June 1858 (Phelan) and died 7 Nov. 1940 in Olympia, WA (VR). He did not marry.

Alonzo moved from Maine to Minnesota with his parents between 1860 and 1866. Funeral home records say that he arrived in Thurston County, WA in 1899. The 1910 census places him in Mud Bay Precinct, WA, working as a logger. His death record describes him as a "stationary engineer." Alonzo was named the executor and sole beneficiary of his sister, Minnnesota's, will in 1925.

827. MINNESOTA [9] DORMAN (John[8], Nathaniel[7], Benjamin[6], Jabez[5-4-3], Thomas[2-1]) was born 3 May 1866 in Kingston, MN (Schoppe Fam., p. 18) and died 28 Nov. 1925 in Tumwater, WA (Thurston Co. Prob. #3399). She married (1) in 1888 GEORGE LOW (Schoppe Fam., p. 18), who was born in Rice City, MN about 1866, son of J. F. and Sarah Low. She married (2) about 1902 ELIAS S. EAKLE, who was born in Maryland about 1861 and probably died before 1925 (not mentioned in wife's will), parentage unknown.

Minnesota derived her name from being the first (and last) child of John and Melissa born in that state. Very little is known about her two marriages, except that she had no children. She first appears as an adult in the 1910 census, at which point Minnesota Eakle is found living with her mother and step-father in Mud Bay Precinct, WA. Elias does not seem to be in Washington at that time. In 1920, however, she and Elias are living together on Cedar Street in Tumwater, WA; he is employed as a laborer, but is shown as owning his house, free of mortgage. This was probably property inherited by Minnie from her father, Benjamin.

The will of Minnesota Eakle was written 13 July 1925 and proved 15 Dec. 1925 (Thurston Co. Prob. #3399). She names her brother, Alonzo, as the executor and sole beneficiary. If he predeceases her, the estate, such as it is, will go to Lura B. Alkire, niece, daughter of her deceased sister, Phebe Griffin. The inventory shows some real estate (North Half of Block 14, Barnes Addition to Tumwater), worth about $400; there was also a team of horses, harness and buggy worth $50, "meager" furniture and $130 in cash. Minnie is buried in the Dorman plot in the Masonic Memorial Cemetery, Tumwater, WA.

[9] DORMAN (Harrison[8], Nathaniel[7], Benjamin[6], Jabez[5-4-3], Thomas[2-1]) was born 28 Oct. 1880 in Hibby, MN (Examiner obit) and died 13 Apr. 1970 in Colville, WA. (Ibid.) He married (1) 23 Oct. 1901 in Arden, WA SARAH (SADIE) ELY, who was born about 1884 in Iowa (mar. rec; Forry), daughter of David and Mary (Nash) Ely; she married twice more and died as Sadie Olson in Colville 8 July 1957 (Cert. #14193, Forry). Garland married (2) in Colville 27 Dec. 1930 (Forry, Phillips) BESSIE CRESHONE (HEDGES) PHILLIPS, who was born in Butler County, KS 7 Jan. 1885 and died in Colville 15 Nov. 1978, daughter of John W. and Mary Hedges. Bessie married (1) 3 July 1901 OLIVER R. B. PHILLIPS, who died in 1925 (Ron Phillips).

In his obituary, Garland is called a pioneer of Colville. When first married, he farmed and handled timber products on a homestead in Abby, WA, four miles north of Colville. Later he followed the trade of house and sign painting, specializing in gold leaf lettering on windows and doors of shops. Shirley Dodson writes: "I knew Garland because he was a painter and we had a paint store. He did sign work and told me about striping the design on the side of a fancy hearse." The census of 1910 reports that he is in the confectionary business, and that of 1920 describes him as an employee of the Great Northern Railroad. Garland and Sadie were divorced about 1925 (Forry), after having two children. Bessie had had two sons by her first marriage, who were brought up by Garland as his own. Oliver (Ron) Phillips, one of those step-sons, has been very helpful in the research of this family. Sally (Swanson) Forry, who was taught painting by her grandfather, Garland, has also provided much assistance.

He married (1) about 1907 (1910 USC) ELLEN LARSON, who died in 1911 (Meeker Cem.). He married (2) about 1912 (first child), his first wife's sister, ELLA LARSON, who was born 7 June 1875, parentage unknown. He married (3) after 1920 (USC) ANNIE WOODS, who was born in Minnesota about 1890, parentage unknown.

Jesse and his first wife were living with his parents in Kingston in 1910, with no children (USC). He was a laborer who worked on farms in the Kingston and Winona areas. Jesse's second wife left him and had a child by a man named Rudquist, after which she returned to Jesse but later left him again, at which point they were divorced. The 1920 census places him in Eagle Bend, Todd County, MN, divorced and living with George E.

Smith, described as a brother-in-law. The four children, all from the second marriage, were scattered in foster homes.

On 19 May 1954, two of Jesse's children, Gladys and Edward, petitioned the court to appoint a guardian for him, since he was apparently then incompetent to manage his affairs. The court agreed after a hearing and appointed Richard Halberg as guardian (Meeker Co. Prob. #7263).

She married about 1899 (first child), as his second wife, MAGNUS JOHNSON, who was born 19 Sept. 1871 in Karlstad, Sweden, parentage unknown, and died in Litchfield, MN 13 Sept. 1936.

Magnus Johnson immigrated to this country in 1891 and was naturalized in 1898. He worked as a lumber jack in Wisconsin and saved $400 with which to purchase 40 acres of land in Kingston. He married first in 1895, Matilda Boreen, who died in childbirth. Magnus was a farmer, but a very political man. He served as justice of the peace, clerk of the school board and was heavily involved in agricultural cooperatives. Under the auspices of Robert LaFollette's farm and labor progressive movement, he spoke to farmers all over Minnesota. Magnus was elected a State Representative in 1914, a State Senator in 1918 and he ran for governor of Minnesota in 1922, but lost. In 1923, however, he was elected to the United States Senate to fill a seat made vacant by death. He was not re-elected in 1924, but he was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives in 1932, serving one two-year term. Throughout his life, Magnus was known as a progressive liberal in the Farm-Labor tradition; he voted for 96% of the New Deal legislation. Before 1900, Bert moved with his parents from Kingston to Oklahoma, where he is found living with them in Fritzlin Township, Woods County (USC). He was still in that town in 1910, but had married and had one child. He and his father moved from Oklahoma to Oregon before 1920, when they are living in Pendleton. 862. HERBERT E. [9] DORMAN (Erastus[8],John[7],Benjamin[6],Jabez[5-4-3], Thomas[2-1]) was born in Methuen, MA 15 June 1895 (VR) and died in Derry, NH 8 Sept. 1946 (Town Report). He married in Derry 3 Dec. 1927 (Ibid.) GLADYS E. CONLEY, who was born in Haverhill, MA 9 Aug. 1896 (VR) and died 8 May 1987 (Derry Voter Card), daughter of John and Helen E. (Teel) Conley.

Lewis A. Dorman believed, and so noted, that Herbert was adopted. The birth record, however, says nothing about this; Erastus and Ida are given as the parents. Neither does the census of 1900.

Herbert moved to Derry, NH sometime before 1927, when he is descibed on the marriage record as a service representative and Gladys as a bookkeeper. He is mentioned as an heir-at-law in the 1929 administration of his mother's estate, and at the time of his father's death in 1936, he was named as administrator of the estate (Essex Co. Probate #184444).

The obituary of his uncle, George, who died in 1938 in Franklin, NH, reported that "Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dorman of Derry were in attendance."

The 1937 Directory of Derry lists Herbert as a musician living with his wife, Gladys, on Rockingham Road. He owned the property and an automobile. There were no children born of this marriage in Derry between 1927 and 1942.

In 1900 (USC), Charles was living in Precinct 3, Putnam County, Florida with his three younger children and his sister, Blanche; Elizabeth was probably on a visit to Maine with her older daughter and Blanche had come to care for the younger children. In 1910 (USC), this family is living in St. Petersburg, FL, where Charles was working as a carpenter/house builder. 869. GUY CARLTON [9] DORMAN (James[8],Jabez[7],Samuel[6],Jabez[5-4-3], Thomas[2-1]) was born in Presque Isle, ME in 1876 (VR) and died in Ashland, ME 18 Feb. 1952. (Clark; cem. rec.) He married about 1913 (first child) EMMA A. PARADIS, who was born in Fort Kent, ME in 1892 and died in Plainville, CT 14 May 1966 (obit.), parentage unknown.

Like his father before him, Guy made a living as a carpenter, maintaining a shop on his property where he made furniture and caskets, which his grandniece, Norma Cotton, found quite "scary" when her family visited. She remembers him as very serious and somewhat shy.

The will of Guy C. Dorman was written on 4 Feb. 1948, in which he bequeathed all his carpentry tools, machinery and equipment to his son, Lewis, who was also named as executor. The rest and residue of his estate went to his wife, Emma.

The obituary of Emma was carried in the Ashland newspaper on 19 May 1966. It noted that she had died at the home of her son, Lewis, in Plainville, CT. She had been a member of the V. F. W. and of the Sodality, and had lived away from Ashland for 12 years. The funeral was held in Sheridan, ME; her son and grandson were among those in attendance. Guy, Emma and their son, Lewis, are all buried in the Ashland Municipal Cemetery.

871. HAROLD PITT [9] DORMAN (James[8], Jabez[7], Samuel[6], Jabez[5-4-3], Thomas[2-1]) was born 29 Nov. 1880 in Ashland, ME and died there 6 Feb. 1963. (obit) He married in Ashland 10 July 1918 (VR) INEZ MAE ALLEN, who was born 17 Aug. 1888 in Ashland and died there 1 Dec. 1960 (obit.), daughter of Charles and Josephine (Butler) Allen.

Harry Dorman, as he was called, was a carpenter like his older brother and father. Norma Cotton remembers him as "the life of the party, very outgoing and full of fun, as was his wife."

On 4 Dec. 1960, the Ashland newspaper published the obituary of Mae Dorman, who died at her home on Main St. after a long illness, aged 72. She had been a charter member of the Shasta Rebekah Lodge and a member of the Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

The will of Harold P. Dorman was written 21 Nov. 1960. His two daughters were to divide equally all cash on hand and certain real estate in Portage Lake. A granddaughter, Sandra Osgood, receives a lot in Ashland. Household furnishings and personal effects went to daughter, Marion Bryant of Ashland, who is also named as executrix. The house went also to Marion, along with her mother, Mae, and Sandra Osgood. Mae was to die a few days after this instrument was signed, and it seems as if the will was written with that in mind.

The obituary of Harry P. Dorman noted that he had been a lifelong resident of the town of Ashland, that he was a retired carpenter, and that he had been a member of the Ashland Fire Department for over half a century. "At the time he received his 50-year pin he was the oldest active fireman in Maine." Harry and Mae are buried in the Ashland Municipal Cemetery.

He married (3) on 15 Mar. 1920 in Benton, ME (VR) MABEL HUME, who died there 3 Feb. 1933, daughter of David and Ermina (Marden) Hume.

While living in Ashland, Henry followed the trade of his father, that of blacksmith. The History of Greaster Ashland (p. 25) has this to say about him: "Harry Dorman...was known for his ability to shoe a mean horse. He would scare the animal before he started by running up to it and yelling at it."

When his father died in 1913, Henry was "of Baraga, MI", and when his mother died in 1921, he was living in Presque Isle, ME. Henry and Ella were divorced (Maine Divorces, v. 15, p. 13) after 1902; all four children were of this first marriage.

Henry and his third wife lived in Benton for about ten years, during which time he became a dairy farmer. According to Norma Cotton, they both died of influenza within a few days of each other.

She married in Ashland 30 Dec. 1893 (VR) FRANK P. HAYWARD of Presque Isle, who was born about 1869 in Portage, ME, son of James and Eunice (Brown) Hayward.

In the marriage record, Frank is described as a lumberman, and at the birth of his son he was a farmer. A few years after the birth of her son, Zilpha divorced her husband and left her son to be raised by Frank's two unmarried sisters. She moved to Ipswich, Massachusetts and went to work in a stocking factory. She never remarried and had several successful business, particularly real estate in the Medford, MA area.

engineer. In 1954, Ervin and his sister, Myrtle Stone, shared equally the $19,000 estate of their brother, Ralph (Essex Prob. #245015). The death record of James Dorman states that he was a retired stage hand, a fact confirmed by the 1920 census. His residence at death was 466 Shawmut Ave. and he had lived in Boston most of his life. The informant for the death record was a George Stewart, who claimed to be a nephew, but this is difficult to credit when James had no siblings.

Della and James were estranged after 1909, when the court issued a restraining order against him and ordered him to provide his wife with separate support (Suffolk Prob. #145859). There is no record of a divorce, but Della moved to Walpole, MA about 1911, where she lived at Riverview Place and died in 1931. There were no children of this marriage.

901. GEORGE RICHARD [9] DORMAN (Louis[8], Leander[7], Benjamin[6], John[5], Jabez[4-3], Thomas[2-1]) was born 3 Mar. 1901 in Fresno, CA and died there 20 Sept. 1983. He married 24 Jan. 1941 in Torrance, CA KATHLEEN MALVOURNEEN GOSS, who was born 13 July 1911 in Torrance, daughter of Edward J. and Bertha M. (Fitzpatrick) Goss. (Holt)

At the age of 18, George enlisted as a private in the Army and took part in campaigns of the American Expeditionary Force around Silesia and Coblenz, Germany, from 1919 to 1922. A 1981 letter to Zane A. Thompson of Machias, ME describes the beginning of his life-long interest in genealogy. After his discharge from the Army, he made a visit to Bolster Mills, Maine, where his father was born, and from that point on, for the next sixty years, he was an avid collector of data about Dorman family history.

He graduated from the University of California at Berkeley in 1929 with a B.Sc., and from Teachers College in Los Angeles in 1932 with a B.Ed. Starting in March of 1932, he was an advisor to the Civilian Conservation Corps for several years, and he was employed in the Railway Mail Service of the U.S. Postal Service for about 30 years before retiring in 1961 (Holt; Virkus, v. 7, p. 801). Kathleen graduated from the Riverside, CA Library School in 1932 and worked as a librarian in Inglewood, CA for a number of years.

During vacations George traveled all over the country digging out information about Dormans from town, county and state records, courts, libraries and living descendants. His interest in family history extended beyond Dormans, however, since he also researched and collected information on many other families. For example, he constructed the ancestral charts of all the signers of the first California Constitution.

Although he never published any of this material, George was very happy to share what he had with anyone who contacted him, and there were hundreds who did just that; he carried on a wide correspondence all of his life. When George R. Dorman died in 1983, his widow donated his large personal library to the California Genealogical Society, which recently dedicated a room in his memory at their offices in San Francisco. His immense collection of files went to the Archives of the California State Library in Sacramento.

George was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wards and the Presbyterian Church. He is buried in the family plot in a cemetery on Elm Avenue about one mile south of Easton, CA. His widow, Kathleen still lives in Fresno. There were no children of this marriage.

He married in Malden, MA 7 Mar. 1894 (VR), as her second husband, ELLA M. PEEL, who was born in Nova Scotia about 1871, daughter of Benjamin S. and Sarah M. Peel (mar. rec.). Ella Dorman married (3) in Townsend, MA 22 Dec. 1914 (VR), as his second wife, EVERETT B. BORNEMAN, who was born in Townsend about 1881, son of Jason and Cora (Sidelinger) Borneman.

Charles grew up in Georgetown and moved to Malden in 1890 with his parents. He went into his father's business of manufacturing perfumes. When he died he was living at 31 Waverly St. in Everett.

On 6 Sept. 1912, Ella M. Dorman petitioned for administration of the estate of Charles, who had died intestate (Middlesex Co. Prob. #93693). There were no other heirs, and his parents, William and Helen Dorman, signed a quitclaim. The inventory showed a personal worth of $2875, with no real estate. There were no children of this marriage.

922. WILLIAM EDGAR [10] DORMAN(William[9-8], Perley[7], Timothy[6-5], John[4], Timothy[3], Thomas[2-1]) was born 25 June 1869 in Georgetown, MA. His death record has not been found.

The historian of the Perley family, writing in 1906, notes that one of the sons of William B. Dorman "has been in the U.S. Navy for several years, was in the fighting off Santiago de Cuba, and in the action where Admiral Schley destroyed the Spanish fleet." (p. 163) This might well refer to William, but a search of military records has not yet turned up verification of that statement.

M. V. B. Perley has this to say about Philip: "He was known far and wide as the 'boy astrologer.' He was certainly far beyond his years in the occult science. He was a wonder to the professors at Harvard College. Among his correspondents were Dr. Franz Hartmann of Vienna and Prof.

Camille Flammarion, the distinguished French astronomer." (p.163.) The Essex Institute in Salem, MA has a formal photograph of Philip at age 13.

927. GERTRUDE ADELE [10] DORMAN(William$^{9-8}$, Perley^{7}, Timothy$^{6-5}$, John^{4},Timothy^{3}, Thomas$^{2-1}$) was born in Georgetown, MA 25 May 1878 (VR) and died 13 Oct. 1918 in Everett, MA (VR). She married in Everett 28 May 1898 (VR), as his third wife, IRA FOSTER MARTIN, who was born in Charlestown, MA 10 July 1860 (VR) and died in Everett 16 May 1937 (VR), son of Ira F. and Emeline (Dow) Martin. Ira Martin married (1) in Boston 19 Nov. 1882 SARAH E. COLLINS, who was born in Boston about 1862 (mar. rec.), daughter of Thomas and Sarah Collins; he married (2) in Cohasset, MA 18 Sept. 1890 (VR) MARGARET MCLANE, who was born in Nova Scotia about 1851 (mar. rec.), daughter of Stephen and Margaret McLane. Ira married (4) ELIZABETH F. AUSTIN, who survived him.

Two years before she married, Gertrude gave birth to an out-of-wedlock child in Old Town, Maine in 1896 (Penobscot Co. Probate Record). Her maternal grandfather was practicing medicine in Old Town at that time. The child was adopted in Penobscot County the next year and Gertrude returned to Everett to marry Ira, who is described as a teamster and clerk in various documents. In 1900 (USC), they were living at 81 Waverly St. in that city, where Ira was a public works employee.

In 1907, Gertrude was accepted as member #61111 of the Daughters of the American Revolution by reason of her descent from Timothy Dorman (#&) of Boxford, MA (D.A.R. Lineage Book 62, p. 39). The death certificate of Gertrude Martin records the cause of death as "revolver wounds to the head and heart, suicide, while mentally deranged." Ira and Gertrude had no children. She is buried in Harmony Cemetery, Georgetown.

930. FLORENCE MAUD [10] DORMAN(William[9-8], Perley[7], Timothy[6-5], John[4], Timothy[3], Thomas[2-1]) was born 27 Nov. 1883 in Deering, ME (VR) and died 3 July 1917 in Malden (VR). She married 23 Jan. 1907 CHESTER A. HOOD, who was born in Ipswich, MA 16 Jan. 1884 (VR), son of Arthur and Hattie S. (Morris) Hood.

Florence died of acute shock "after a normal delivery," according to the doctor's comments on the death record. Since there is no report in the vital records of a child having been born or died that day in Malden, it is assumed that the infant was stillborn. The informant was her husband Chester A. Hood of 20 Mansfield St., Everett, MA. Florence is buried in Glenwood Cemetery, Everett.

932. EDWARD LESTER [10] DORMAN(William[9-8], Perley[7],Timothy[6-5], John[4], Timothy[3], Thomas[2-1]) was born in Malden, MA 5 Apr. 1887 (VR). (YOUNG) NORTON, sister of the above, who was born about 1883 in Canada and died before 1920 (USC), daughter of George P. and Annie (Belyea) Young. Edward married (3) in Malden 18 Oct. 1922 (VR) MILDRED A. NORWOOD, who was born about 1898 in Saco, ME, daughter of Edwin F. and Mary M. (Meikle) Norton.

934. FRANCES ELIZABETH [10] DORMAN (George[9], Charles[8], Cyrus[7], John[6-5-4], Timothy[3], Thomas[2-1]) was born in Wells, ME 27 July 1909 (VR). She did not marry.

Frances' father was pastor of the Christian Church in Ogunquit, ME when she was born. The following information is drawn from a telephone interview with her in 1993. After the divorce of her parents in 1913, Frances never saw her father again. She recalls that he came through once on a train when she was a little girl and called from the railroad station, asking to see her. But she was afraid that he would take her away and did not go to the station. Frances was surprised to hear that her father married again, had two sons and moved to Oregon.

The 1920 census shows Frances living with her mother at 7 Day St. in Haverhill. During World War II, Frances worked in the defense industry for Pratt and Whitney. She then bought a boarding house in Haverhill, MA, which she and her mother ran for many years. Her last job was that of a supervisor of school lunches in Haverhill, from which she retired in 1974. In 1993, Frances is living in Mission Towers, Haverhill, MA.

He and his wife teamed up to interview former American prisoners returning from Korea, and he broke the story of the Prudential Center in Boston. He was appointed real estate editor and won many awards for his writing in that field. MacKay). She married in New York City 15 June 1927 JOHN JAMES MACKAY, who was born there 29 June 1896 and died in Greenport, NY 11 Aug. 1986, son of James W. and Josephine R. (Laurence) MacKay (Yale Yearbook).

Isabel graduated from Vassar College in 1925, took a master's degree from Columbia University in 1926 and worked for the Book-of-the-Month Club in the 1940's. During World War II, she tutored foreign students. Isabel was the self-appointed conservator and transmitter of Dorman family lore, and it was from his aunt that the author of this present work inherited the family bible, along with the accompanying responsibility to engage in further research. She lived mainly in New York City from her birth until 1953, when the family moved to Orient to live with Isabel's widowed mother. Isabel was an avid tennis player and gardener. She and John later built a house there.

John MacKay prepared for college at the Mount Hermon School in Northfield, MA. On 30 July 1917, he enlisted in the 77th Infantry Division, training at Camp Upton, NY. Six months later, he transferred to Officer Training school, went to France to learn artillery and was commissioned a 2nd Lieutenant in the 132nd Field Artillery. Before returning home he was made a 1st Lt. and attended the University of Bordeau for four months.

John graduated from Yale University in 1923. He was a member of the varsity football and wrestling teams for three years, and the track team for one. John earned many honors as a student, holding several distinguished scholarships and serving on the Dwight Hall Cabinet for four years.

After graduation in 1923, John continued his athletic career, reigning as heavyweight wrestling champion of Metropolitan New York 1923-1926; he was chosen to be on the U.S. Olympic wrestling team in 1924 but was unable to go to Paris to compete. His career in business included executive positions at Lord and Taylor in NYC, Corning Glass in Corning, NY, Vanity Fair Mills in Reading, PA, J. B. Stetson Co. in Philadelphia and the Will E. Cusick Co. in Keyport, NJ. When he and Isabel moved to Orient in 1953, he worked as advertising manager of the Long Island Traveler-Watchman until his retirement in 1966. In 1968, Stuart, Barbara and their son, Larry, bought the Suffolk Times and the Riverhead News Review, Long Island weekly newspapers based in Greenport, NY, which they published until a few months before his death ten years later. From his youth, he had been a devotee of sailing and was a long-time member of the Orient Yacht Club, of which he was past commodore. He and Barbara had been living in Locust Valley, NY, but they moved to Orient permanently upon purchasing the newspapers. There they restored and lived in the old house on Bayberry Knoll which his father had built half a century before.

Barbara had had a previous career in journalism, writing a fashion column in Corpus Christi and for the New York Herald Tribune in the 1950's. She assumed an important role in the newspaper operation, serving as editor and writing a weekly column called "In An Oystershell." Both she and Stuart shared a deep concern for the environment, which was reflected in the Suffolk Times' opposition to the proposed nuclear power plant in Jamesport, NY. Stuart and Barbara are buried in the Central Cemetery in Orient, NY.

950. THEODORE TAYLOR [10] DORMAN (Franklin[9-8], Moses[7-6], John[5-4], Timothy[3], Thomas[2-1]) was born in New York City 25 Dec. 1914 and died in Westover, MD 10 Dec. 1991. He married in Greenport, NY 6 Sept. 1936 VIRGINIA E. CORWIN, who was born in Greenport, NY 7 Nov. 1913 and died in Westover, MD 6 Jan. 1988, daughter of Fred and Elsie (Knapp) Corwin. He married (2) VIRGINIA CARSON.

Theodore graduated from Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, NH in 1934 and attended Harvard College for one year. After his marriage he went to work for his brother, Franklin, in the Dorman Mills in Parsons, WV, where he became vice-president and remained for twenty years until the mill was sold in 1957.

In the late 1950's, Ted was appointed Commissioner of Public Institutions (prisons) by West Virginia Gov. Cecil Underwood. After one term, he moved to Washington, DC and became administrative assistant to Sen. John D. Hobitzell of WV. After a stint working for the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Ted accepted a position with the United Church of Christ which entailed the construction and management of homes for the aged, including Springvale Terrace, a UCC retirement home in Silver Spring, MD.

For several years, Ted and Virginia had bought, restored and sold homes in the Washington area, as a sideline. In 1961, they purchased a Colonial era (1664 grant) house on the Eastern Shore of Maryland known as Liberty Hall, along with a working farm, and over the years they worked to make it habitable. In 1972, Ted and his family moved from Washington to this house in Westover, MD, where he operated occasionally as a real estate agent. His main interests, however, were the Somerset County Historical Society and the Maryland Historical Trust, of which he was a board member for the Lower Counties.

954. DANIEL BLISS [10] DORMAN (Harry[9], Franklin[8], Moses[7-6], John[5-4], Timothy[3], Thomas[2-1]) was born in Beirut, Lebanon 23 May 1911. He married in Brooklyn, NY 16 June 1939 (Harvard Report) DOROTHY TROWBRIDGE MERRILL, who was born in Gazientep, Turkey 12 Jan. 1912, daughter of John E. and Isabel B. (Trowbridge) Merrill.

Dan graduated cum laude from Harvard College with an A.B. degree in 1932, and then went on to Harvard Medical School, where he received his M.D. in 1936. After a two-year internship in surgery at St. Luke's Hospital in New York, Dan changed his specialty to obstetrics and gnyecology, with a residency in Philadelphia. He spent the spring of 1939 as the ship's doctor on J. P. Morgan's yacht, Corsair, cruising the Mediterranean.

After marriage to Dody and a tour of duty in the Navy, Dan set up in private practice as a gynecologist and obstetrician in Pittsfield, MA. Over a period of 35 years, he probably delivered in the neighborhood of 10,000 babies, before "retiring" from private practice in 1982 to teach medicine full-time to residents and students at the Berkshire Medical Center. Someone with the surname of Dorman cannot venture into Berkshire County, MA without being questioned about his or her relationship to Dr. Dorman.

Dody Dorman, like her husband, is descended from families with strong ties to the missionary movement in the Middle East. Her father was president of Central Turkey College at Aintab, and her mother's father, Rev. Tillman Trowbridge, was the first president of that same college. As a young child, Dody accompanied her mother on a hair-raising escape from Turkey at the outbreak of World War I. She graduated from Connecticut College in 1934 and was a physical education instructor at the Friends Academy in Locust Valley, NY before her marriage.

Long a sports enthusiast, Dan continues to ski and play tennis on a regular basis. Dan achieved full retirement in 1984; he and Dody have lived in the Kimball Farms retirement community in Lenox, MA since 1989, and they spend parts of summers at their house in Orient, NY.

955. JOHN [10] DORMAN (Harry[9], Franklin[8], Moses[7-6], John[5-4], Timothy[3], Thomas[2-1]) was born 22 Sept. 1913 in Beirut, Lebanon. He married in El Paso, TX 10 Feb. 1947 MARTHA CLIFFORD ANDERSON, who was born 11 Sept. 1916 in El Paso, daughter of William R. and Bridget (McIntyre) Anderson.

John prepared for college at Phillips Academy, Andover, MA, graduated from Harvard College in 1936 with an A.B. degree and received an M.A. degree from Harvard in 1942. He taught English at a prep school for five years after graduation. John joined the Navy and served at bases in Casablanca, Cairo and Beirut. He and Nene met in Washington, DC during the war. In 1948 John became a Foreign Service Officer, attached over the next 15 years to consulates in Tunis, Tunisia and Rabat, Morocco, and to embassies in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia and Paris, France. In the early 1960's he spent three years in Washington as an advisor to the United States delegation to the United Nations. He then resigned from the Foreign Service and took a job as the Director of the American Research Center in Cairo, Egypt. He was decorated with Morocco's "Ouissam Alaouite" in 1955 and Egypt's "Order of the Republic" in 1977.

As a young woman, Nene, as she prefers to be called, became a member of the Sisters of Divine Providence in El Paso. When World War II came along, however, she left the order and joined the WAVES as a Navy lieutenant; she was assigned to a job in Washington, DC, where she and John met. For many years Nene was the Orient correspondent of the Suffolk

Times newspaper, churning out weekly columns on social activities in that village. John is his generation's conservator of the sword used by Lieutenant John Dorman of Boxford, MA during the Revolution, and he also has in his care the original commission, signed by General Washington. He and his wife continue to live in Orient in 1993, where they serve as volunteers in the Eastern Long Island Hospital, the Oysterponds Historical Society and local churches.

956. DAVID [10] DORMAN (Harry[9], Franklin[8], Moses[7-6], John[5-4], Timothy[3], Thomas[2-1]) was born in Beirut, Lebanon 23 Nov. 1919. He married in Providence, RI 14 June 1952 RUTH AGNES GAMMAGE, who was born in Malden, MA 1 May 1923 (VR), daughter of Earl C. and Helen A (Horton) Gammage.

David began his higher education at the American University in Beirut and then transferred to Harvard College, where he was very active in the Glee Club and received an A.B. degree in 1946. He taught briefly at Tabor Academy in Marion, MA, then returned to Cambridge to work as an Arabic cataloger at Harvard's Widener Library. From there he went to Columbia University, where he and Ruth met, and earned a Master's in Library Science in 1951. Ruth had served in the U.S. Navy (WAVES) from 1944-1945. David served in the Marine Corps Reserves for six years.

This family lived in Manchester, NH for a number of years, where David was Director of the public library and Ruth, who also took a Master's in Library Science at Columbia (1952), was a school librarian. He was president of the NH Library Association 1961-1963 and a director of the Manchester Historical Association 1963-1965. Ruth was president of the NH School Library Association. David was an active Rotarian.

Schooled as a librarian, David took an interest early on in family history. After considerable research, he constructed a family tree showing direct ancestors from Thomas, the immigrant, down to the present. This he updated from time to time, and he can certainly be counted as one of the family historians who has made valuable contributions to this work.

Since 1966, David and Ruth have lived in Hershey, PA, where he has been involved in various libraries and library associations. Ruth was a teacher-librarian at Milton Hershey School. David has been quite active in his local church, as choir member and financial secretary, and in the local Lions Club. 964. EDSON RODERICK [10] DORMAN (Henry[9], Ambrose[8], Roderick[7], Daniel[6], Amos[5-4-3], Thomas[2-1]) was born in Belchertown, MA 11 July 1878 (VR) and died in Longmeadow, MA 14 Feb. 1969 (VR). He married in Springfield, MA 28 Sept. 1904 (VR) BESSIE OLIVIA SMITH, who was born in Springfield 27 Aug. 1881 and died in Longmeadow 21 Sept. 1976 (VR), daughter of Charles A. and Sarah J. (Snow) Smith.

Edson was a mechanical and design engineer. Having graduated from Springfield High School and evening trade school, he served an apprenticeship with Waltham Watch Tool Co and was a journeyman tool maker and a draftsman for Overman Auto Co. in Chicopee, MA. From 1902-1907, Edson worked for the Springfield Arsenal, where he designed and built military rifles. For the next ten years, he worked at various jobs, including design and manufacturing of packaging machines, motorcycle engines and percussion fuses. In 1917 he became the supervising engineer for the Greenfield, MA Tap and Die Corp., in which position he continued to design and build gages for the manufacture of military ordnance. At the end of World War I, he was awarded a commission as Major of Ordnance in the U.S. Army Reserves.

Edson was very well known in the Springfield area as a superior YMCA athlete. He competed throughout New England in track and field events, and over the years won more than 250 medals for his accomplishments. He was a member of the "Y" for 50 years and was at one time a class leader. A firm believer in physical fitness, he also played tennis and golf, and hunted and fished.

In addition to all the above activities, Edson was very interested in Dorman family history. He did a good amount of research in Connecticut and Massachusetts, tracing his direct ancestors back to the original Thomas of Topsfield, MA. Whereupon he wrote a 27-page paper giving biograpical sketches of those men and their wives, including vital records of their children. He carried on a correspondence with George R. Dorman of Fresno, CA, who was quite impressed by his genealogical skills, and he distributed copies of his paper, not only to family members, but also to various libraries, including that of the New England Historic Genealogical Society in Boston. The present writer owes Edson a debt of gratitude for this work, and is equally appreciative of the cooperation of his son, Edson R. Dorman of Longmeadow, MA, to whom the files of his father were intrusted for safekeeping.

967. WILLIAM ROWLAND [10] DORMAN (Harry[9], Orlando[8], Orlin[7], Amos[6-5-4-3], Thomas[2-1]) was born, probably in New York, NY, before 1908 (death of father). He married 20 Dec. 1934 in Fulham, England (NYT 3 Feb. 1935, II, 6:4) MARGARET MARY RAWLINS, daughter of Katherine E. Rawlins of London.

William was the only child of his father's second marriage. His father died when he was very young and his mother married in 1908 Edwin van der Horst Koch. All that is known about William comes from the New York Times.

New York Times Magazine, p. 20, 20 Feb. 1933: "William Dorman, retired vice-president of Johnson and Johnson (surgical supplies), bought the three Barrier Islands---Fripps, St. Phillips and Storey, totalling 15,000 acres ---between Charleston, SC and Savannah, GA."

New York Times, 28 Feb. 1933: "...Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Cowperthwaite of this city have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Virginia Henderson Cowperthwaite, to William Rowland Dorman of this city and New Brunswick, NJ. ... Mr. Dorman is the son of Mrs. E. von der Horst Koch of this city... He has traveled extensively abroad, spending much time in England. He is a former director of Johnson and Johnson. Mr. Dorman recently purchased three of the Barrier Islands of the coast of Charleston, SC."

This engagement was broken, as reported in the NYT of 13 May 1933, and the following announcement appeared in that newspaper on 3 Feb. 1935: "Mrs. E. von der Horst Koch of this city announces the marriage of her son, William Rowland Dorman, to Margaret Mary Rawlins, daughter of Mrs. Katherine E. Rawlins of London. The marriage took place Dec. 20 in All Saints Church, Fulham, England. Mr. Dorman and his bride, known to her friends as Peggy, have arrived in this country and will make their home in Princeton, NJ. Mr. Dorman is a grandson of Mrs. Robert Adrian of New Brunswick, NJ."

He moved to Sidney, NE after his second marriage, and the rest of his children were born there. In 1948, Clarence, who had been a railroad section hand and dirt farmer, borrowed enough money from his father-in-law to make a down payment on a $38,000 960-acre farm in Sidney, Nebraska. For two years he had a hard time making the mortgage payment, but on 4 July 1950, the first of 21 oil wells came in on Clarence's land. Local headlines proclaimed "Rags to Riches," which annoyed the Dormans, who had hardly been reduced to rags before the discovery of oil. Clarence and Anna set up trust funds for their children, contributed to their church, hired a full-time farmhand, bought a late-model car, modernized their farmhouse and invested in purebred Shorthorn stock, but they remained essentially a farming family. Anna lives in Sidney, NE in 1994.

He and Grace were very active in the Mariners Club, serving as First Mates of the Synod of Kansas in 1956-7. Orval had been a Noble Grand of the Oddfellows Lodge #304. He loved music and especially enjoyed playing his banjo for family gatherings.

She has converted the upper floor of her house into a factory, with three sewing machines and a part-time helper turning out hundreds of bags a month, and she has over 50 distributors acattered over several midwest states.

Descendants of John and Julia (Jewell) Dorman, who arrived in Kansas from Saratoga County, NY about 1880, came together from Colorado, Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, Illinois, New York, Nebraska and Kansas for three days of festivities. Since the 1950's, Grace has built up extensive files on this branch of the family; she and her daughter, Joan, have generously shared their material with the current author.

John was a child of his mother's first marriage and was not mentioned in Jerry Dorman's pension file as a son in 1884 (Pension #514946). Maureen Wilson says, however, that Jerry legally adopted him upon marrying his mother in 1883. In every census from 1900 on John bore the name of Dorman, and he practiced dentistry under that name in the same town as his father. He had received his medical training in dentistry at Georgetown University and practiced that profession all his life, but he had another love, which was basketball. For over fifty years, John Dorman was the basketball coach at Upper Iowa University in Fayette.

In the 1900 US census, M. Arilla Cassidy was living next door to John's family in Fayette; she was a student, lodging with Elizabeth Goodrich. By 1910 they had married and in 1920 John and Arilla were still living in Fayette, IA near his parents. There were no children of this marriage.

Thomas Dorman of Topsfield, Massachusetts, (1608-1670): Twelve Generations of Descendants

Franklin Abbott Dorman

If you belong to this branch of the family, you are fortunate indeed, for this thorough genealogy includes the names of more than 1600 Dormans.

The Dormans of Massachusetts have always been on the move, taking an active part in the westward migrations by which this country grew and prospered. Today (1994) the largest number of living descendants of Thomas Dorman is probably to be found in Minnesota, though they can be found throughout the United States. (Most southern Dormans probably descend from another branch which arrived very early in Virginia. Other Dormans descend from the New Haven, Connecticut, branch which has also been connected to Thomas of Massachusetts.)

This book is arranged by generations. Every person born with the name of Dorman has been assigned a family number, which usually appears in two places, one when the person is born, and another where his or her biographical sketch appears. The "brackets" are quite detailed, providing information relating to spouses, places of residence and burial, occupations, education, military service, and so on. For those who are interested in reading about Dorman men and women who led lives somewhat out of the ordinary, including veterans of the Revolutionary and Civil Wars, an appendix lists their names and the page numbers on which their brackets can be found.

Sources for this massive work include vital records of towns, United States Census records from 1790 to 1920, books about the genealogy of families into which Dormans married, town, county, and state histories, county probate and land records, historical and genealogical journals, the International Genealogical Index and Ancestry File of the Church of Latter Day Saints (microfiche and software), newspaper obituaries, cemetery records and other publications of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The author also obtained information from hundreds of face-to-face and telephone interviews and a heavy volume of correspondence with many descendants of Thomas Dorman.
